FORMER PREMIER GIVES OPINION

Sir Robert Borden Telegraphs That He Wholly Agrees With Mr. Meighen on Constitutional Issue

LORD BYNG, HE SAYS, ACTED AS WAS RIGHT

Liberal Assertion That Veteran Statesman Would Not Have Approved Course Taken Is Exploded

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Sept. 3.—The assertion and certainty with which Premier Oliver was blowing the dust of the time the Provincial Liberal leader had posed as a railway authority, said Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Customs, in opening his guns on the Premier for the first time this afternoon.

The Minister, with Hon. F. R. Toimie, Minister of Agriculture, was speaking to the Young Conservatives here at a luncheon.

Mr. Stevens recalled that Hon. Mr. Oliver had once declared that he could run the Pacific Great Eastern Railway better than any man alive. He had followed out his declaration by cancelling an agreement with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, which would have resulted in the Provincial line being taken over by that transcontinental railway, which has since been absorbed into the Canadian National system. The result had been that the taxpayers of British Columbia had lost many millions.

Sir Robert Borden Gives Opinion To support a denial that Sir Robert Borden, former Premier of Canada, had disagreed with Premier Meighen on the constitutional issue, as he declared, had been stated on Liberal platforms in Vancouver, Hon. Mr. Stevens produced a telegram from the war Premier. Sir Robert telegraphed that he was in complete agreement with Mr. Meighen on this question, and that any statement to the contrary was unfounded. Lord Byng had acted with propriety and right.

The Minister briefly discussed the Customs probe, old age pensions, and other issues.

"Stable" Government. Attacking Hon. W. R. Meighen, former Minister of Agriculture, who has just toured this riding, Hon. Mr. Toimie, Mr. Meighen's successor, referred to a "house deal" between Canada and Germany by which Canada had lost some $20,000. Mr. Meighen, said Toimie, had bought eighty-four horses in Saskatchewan at $8 each, and shipped them to Germany, but by the time they had reached there they cost $23 each. Mr. Meighen, he thought, should not talk of "stable" government.

Mr. E. A. Welsh occupied the chair at the luncheon.

Penitentiary Burns, But No Loss of Life

WALLA WALLA, Sept. 3.—Fire, which started in the Washington state penitentiary here about 5:30 o'clock this afternoon, was still raging at 9 o'clock tonight. Convicts were under heavy guard in the recreation yard, members of Company "B" of the National Guard having been called out to prevent any outbreak among the prisoners.

The main building, which includes the cells and the dining hall, was believed to be a total loss. Other buildings were not seriously threatened, and fire fighters believed they could be saved. There were no casualties.

SECOND WADING POOL PROPOSED

VICTORIA KIWANIS CLUB ASKS CITY TO AID PROJECT FOR CENTRAL PARK

Council Requested for $1,000 Contribution—Aldermen Laud Kiwanians for Community Spirit

The city of Victoria may, within a comparatively short time, have its second children's wading pool, constructed through the initiative and work of the Victoria Kiwanis Club and aided by financial assistance from the City Council.

A deputation from the Victoria Kiwanis Club, comprised of Vice-President Atwell D. King and Director C. Elwood Watkins, waited upon the City Council yesterday and sought its co-operation and support in the club's proposal to build a wading pool for youngsters at Central Park.

Mr. King, who thought that the Kiwanis Club's wading pool for kiddies at Beacon Hill Park had been a big asset to the community, said the proposed pool at Central Park would cost more to construct than the Beacon Hill project, and would have to be filled with fresh water, instead of salt water. The present children's pool had cost $1,500, of which the sum of $550 was contributed by the City Council.

"We are here today to ask the City Council to give $1,000 towards the Central Park wading pool, as well as supplying the fresh water for it," stated Mr. King. "The pool will be the same size as the Beacon Hill one, and we are prepared to start the work this year."

Alderman Harvey had praise for the wading pool scheme, saying "I have seen as many as sixty small children in the pool at Beacon Hill. It is a splendid project, and he suggested that the matter be referred to City Engineer Frank M. Preston and the civic parks committee for a report on the exact cost of constructing a pool in Central Park."

Mr. C. Elwood Watkins, who was architect for the Beacon Hill pool, said that the Kiwanians were anxious to get started on the Central Park project while the weather continued fine, because they could only go out and work on the construction on Wednesday afternoons.

The City Council then adopted Alderman Brown's suggestion, and referred the question to the city engineer and parks body, to confer with the Kiwanis Club's wading pool committee, and report back to the Council.

EXPERIENCE IS TEST OF POLICY

Systematic Protection, Says Mr. Lader, Shows Results in Development of United States Industry

EIGHTY PER CENT OF FARMERS NEED TARIFF

Natural Wealth of Country Should Not Be Exported as Raw Material to Be Manufactured Elsewhere

VANCOUVER, Sept. 3.—"Mr. Dugald Donaghy may say what he likes in defence of his party on the Customs scandal issue," declared Mr. Leon J. Lader, in speaking at Victoria House today, "but the fact remains that on August 4, 1924, the full facts of the smuggling and departmental wrongdoing were placed before Mackenzie King by the Commercial Protective Association, and that was eighteen months before Hon. H. H. Stevens made his charges on the floor of the House."

He stands convicted.

Mr. Lader, who also spoke during the evening at 30th Avenue and Mill Street, declared that the smuggling within one month by mere application of laws already on the statute book.

"The Liberal administration," he declared, "need not be charged in this connection; it stands convicted." While Mr. King did his level best to dodge a vote of censure, he failed, and the Parliament of Canada went on record condemning him.

TOKIO, Sept. 4.—Five persons were killed and fifty injured today as the result of a hurricane, which blew a train off the Tokaido Railway from the tracks at Hamamatsu, 167 miles south of Tokyo, and destroyed numerous houses in Suitama prefecture. The hurricane swept the Kanto district.

PRESIDENT BEATTY SPEAKS OF CITIES

HE DESCRIBES VICTORIA AS ONE OF MOST BEAUTIFUL CITIES IN NORTH AMERICA

Living Conditions, Climate and Scenery Makes Coast City Almost Ideal, He Declares

VANCOUVER, Sept. 3.—"I never visit the Pacific Coast that I do not leave with a greater appreciation of why its cities are so attractive as places of residence," said Mr. E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, last night, on his return from Victoria.

"There is no doubt," he declared, "that living conditions, climate and scenery make these cities almost ideal."

"There is little I can say," continued Mr. Beatty, "that is not already known about the progress of Vancouver and Victoria. The former retains its position as the city in Canada which is making the most rapid progress, and the latter is beyond question one of the most beautiful cities in North America. The attractiveness of both from the standpoint of tourists is great, but naturally Vancouver has a location which lends itself to more rapid commercial and industrial progress."

With the exception of Mr. Tilley, who returned last Thursday night, the entire presidential party will leave this evening at midnight on the return journey to Montreal, going by way of the Crow's Nest.

THRILLING STORY IS TOLD OF CAR

OFFICER FINDS IT LOADED WITH LIQUOR—BUT NO ALCOHOL WILL DO NOTHING

Smuggler Attempting Assault Is Overpowered—Car Attached to Train

ST. JOHN, N.B., Sept. 3.—A thrilling story of the seizure of a freight car containing 5,000 gallons of alcohol was told the Customs Commission today, in the final sitting here today.

Officer W. J. Carr, of the Canadian Pacific Railway police, told of visiting northern New Brunswick, near the Maine boundary, in order to protect the property of finding a freight car on a siding "right alongside the barn of a smuggler," evidently under a false pretence, and of pursuing a band of smugglers after the car had been seized.

The car had arrived at a little ahead of time, and the smugglers were not ready to unload it immediately. Carr said. When he arrived, however, he was warned that the car would be unloaded and that any interruption would not be permitted.

The sub-collector told me it was no use to buck the gang," said Carr. "He unloaded his revolver and washed his hands of the whole affair."

Smuggler Caught Tartar Later the officer was informed that the car was being run by the railway. He waited at the railway station, and when an occasion came, the chief smuggler came to the station, kicked the door open and assaulted Carr. Carr said.

Then he made arrangements to take the car of liquor to St. John. The smugglers, however, got into the car and pursued the train in an effort to intercept it and get back the alcohol.

He was able to evade them, and the car arrived safely at St. John, Officer Carr said.

In answer to Mr. R. L. Calder, K.C., commission counsel, the witness advised more adequate protection for Customs officers at these lonely posts.

Adjustment Till After Election SAINT JOHN, N.B., Sept. 3.—With the sitting of the Royal Commission investigating administration in the Department of Customs suspended until after the election, Sir Francis Lemieux left this afternoon for his home.

Sittings of the commission in Saint John concluded at noon today. When Mr. Calder informed Francis Lemieux, commissioner, that he had revealed the situation in so far as smuggling in the Province of New Brunswick was concerned, his Lordship suspended sittings until after the election.

MR. KING ADVOCATES RECIPROCITY TREATY WITH UNITED STATES

RICHMOND, N.B., Sept. 3.—The same old story of disloyalty which had defeated reciprocity was being raised again today, said Mr. Macdonald, in a speech here, and declared it was only for the purpose of misleading the people and obscuring the real issues and the record of the Liberal Government.

"You would not hear anything today of Maritime Rights if Sir Wilfrid had secured for this country the right of reciprocal trade with the country to the south," said Mr. King. "If there was ever Maritime wrong it was because the provinces were cut off from the market to the south."

PITHY SAYINGS SPOKEN IN TOUR

Mr. Meighen Tells French-Canadians Their Rights Are Rendered Inappreciable by British Relations

FORGET ANIMOSITIES HE SAYS; FACE ISSUES

Hope for Stable Government Lies in Majority for Party Never Found Wanting in Fidelity

RIVIERE DU LOUP, Que., Sept. 3.—After three days of rural Quebec, Premier Meighen returns to Ontario tomorrow, where, with the exception of a final meeting in Montreal, he will campaign to election day. During his three days he has traversed many towns and villages. Everywhere he has had a courteous reception. Everywhere there were people to hear him, varying in number from the small group of the tiny village to the huge meeting held in St. Jean's market square in the old city of Quebec. Largely, the Prime Minister traveled by automobile, his tour running from Montreal to Riviere du Loup, a hundred miles below Quebec.

Final Day in Quebec Today, his final day in the province, he spent in traveling the ridings between L'Assomption and Riviere du Loup. The Prime Minister started out from Quebec with about half a dozen automobiles. By the time he had reached L'Assomption the automobiles stretched in a line of thirty or more down the road.

In his speech at L'Assomption, Meighen announced his intention of appointing another minister from Quebec to a portfolio of "very great importance, indeed."

In the present government," he said, "there are four ministers from the province of Quebec. There is still another portfolio coming to this province. That portfolio will be filled just as soon as the election is over, and we have members elected here representing our French-Canadian fellow citizens from the province of Quebec, and the portfolio that will be held by the next minister will be one of very great importance. There will be no discrimination against Quebec or any province. There never was, indeed."

He appealed that the "animosity of the past should be set aside. 'Surely,' he said, 'we are big enough in Canada to face squarely the issues of today, to decide what is best for ourselves, to decide what our duty is in this day and generation, instead of allowing ourselves to be swept away by misrepresentations. Don't be afraid of responsible government.'"

Mr. Meighen said, referring to the constitutional issues, "Responsible government is more secure here than it ever was."

Never Wanting in Fidelity Mr. Meighen's final meeting in the province was held in the public square at Riviere du Loup. Another large crowd was there to greet him. "This great meeting," said the Prime Minister, "in an indication of the constantly growing strength of the Conservative party in Quebec."

Throughout history, Mr. Meighen added, the Conservative party has been the political home of French-Canadians. "It," he said, "cherishes the rights granted to you under the constitution and rendered inappreciable by British relations. It has been the party that has been found wanting in its fidelity to any one."

He pressed the need for stable government. "The only hope for stable government in Canada," Mr. Meighen stated, "is to give the Conservative party a sufficient majority to enable us to put a stable tariff policy into effect."

MR. KING RETURNS TO PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

He Speaks of His Efforts to Promote Sale of Lumber to the Canadian National

NEW CARLISLE, Que., Sept. 3.—The Liberal leader returned today to Quebec. Special trains brought people from both ends of the constituency to the picnic at New Carlisle. Mr. King was accompanied by Hon. Charles Macle, who has represented the riding in the House since 1909. The contest in Bonaventure is of particular interest this year as the Conservative candidate is Hon. Dr. J. P. Paquet, recently appointed Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment in the present Government, and both parties are putting up strenuous efforts. In 1921 Mr. Macle's majority was more than 4,000 and last year it was 523.

Mr. King, in opening, said, "I have heard a good deal about the railways here and I have taken a great interest in trying to bring the owners together with the National Railways executives."

Offers had been exchanged between the National and Quebec (Oriental) Railways but no settlement reached. The reductions of direct taxation and tariffs made by the Liberal Government were re-told by the Liberal leader.

He told the audience that after consultation with Mr. Robb, the last Minister of Finance, he was able to say that the return of the Liberal party would mean further tax reductions. The Liberal party work in the interest of old age pensions would not cease, and though the measure was defeated by a Conservative Senate it would again be introduced.

QUEBEC BREAKS LIBERAL CHAIN

UNMISTAKABLE EVIDENCE OF PUBLIC WILL IN THAT PROVINCE IS OBSERVED

Trend of Opinion Throughout the Country is Now Becoming Too Marked to Leave Doubt

(Special to The Colonist)

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—The end of the week seen an unmistakable swing toward the Government in the currents of election atmosphere throughout the country. Indications of the trend of the public will are so marked as to remove any lingering doubt in the minds of political observers here as to the definite success of the Government at the polls. The speculation is now directed to the question of the extent of its majority over all other groups.

Quebec Breaks Loose It is only now in the last days of the campaign, that the evidence is giving significant signs of the manner in which it has judged the case. The unquestionable evidence of the last week that Quebec has broken loose from the grip of the group of Liberal leaders who have held it through the promoting of racial prejudice, is regarded as having been the signal for the country as a whole to abandon reliance on its feelings and allow the trend of opinion to be known.

Country Will Take No Chances A factor that is taken into consideration here in connection with the manifest swing toward the Conservative party is the evidence that the country is at the threshold of what, it is felt, might become the greatest period of prosperity in its history if it were permitted to develop. It is believed that a country-wide determination to prevent this development from being further retarded by inability of administration and of national policy has assured the Meighen Government of a decisive mandate and has brought the Dominion to the end of the five-year period of group control.

MR. OLIVER DEFENDS HIS P.G.E. POLICY

Mr. Stevens' Attack Excites Premier—Not True, He Says, That Policy Has Cost Province Millions

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 3.—On his arrival here this evening from Victoria, en route to loco to address a political campaign meeting in the interests of Elihu Manuel, Liberal, Fraser Valley, Premier John Oliver's attention was drawn to Hon. H. H. Stevens' afternoon address in New Westminster, in which the Federal Minister of Customs criticized Mr. Oliver.

Selecting a paragraph in which Mr. Stevens was reported to have said that Premier Oliver had claimed to be the only man who could run the P.G.E. Railway, and that Mr. Oliver had cancelled an agreement by which the Grand Trunk Pacific was to take over the line, and that this had cost the people millions, Mr. Oliver said: "That is a falsehood. There is not a word of truth in the paragraph. I never made the statement alleged. The agreement has not been cancelled."

"The agreement is to be found in the statutes of 1912, and it speaks for itself. It has never been cancelled, and it is still there for what it is worth. It has never become operative because the lines have never been connected up. When the G.T.P. was absorbed by the Canadian National, that line had another outlet to the coast, and the thing simply became inoperative."

Nurse Is Killed And Eight Others Injured at Regina

REGINA, Sept. 3.—Amber Wheeler, nurse in training at the Regina General Hospital, is dead, while eight other persons are in hospital, suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident seven and a half miles north of Regina, tonight about 10:15 o'clock.

Nurse Wheeler, together with Nurse Lewis and Dr. Wilson, and Dr. Nay, Regina, left the hospital for a drive and shortly afterwards figured in the accident, the cause of which has not been determined.

All the injured are reported to be showing progress.

Nurse Wheeler was in her third year of training and was a well-known resident of this city.

END OF STRIKE COMES IN SIGHT

Mr. Cook Writes to Government Proposing Negotiations With View to Reduction in Labor Costs

OWNERS MAY NOW BE OBSTACLE TO PEACE

They Are Opposed to National Agreement, on Which Miners Insist—Government Calls New Conference

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Government has decided to make another attempt at negotiations for settlement of the coal strike. Mr. A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Federation, having sent a letter to the Government which the authorities look upon as constituting a sufficient basis to justify another effort to bring about a solution of the controversy.

In his communication Mr. Cook, in behalf of the Miners' Federation, announces readiness to enter negotiations for a national agreement "with a view to reduction in labor costs to meet the immediate necessities of the industry."

New and Important This is considered as the most important development since the beginning of the strike, because it is the first time that the miners have agreed to discuss a reduction in wages. It would be hasty, however, to assume that it means the end of the deadlock. The owners have still to be brought into line. The miners insist upon a national agreement, while the mine owners are just as obstinate in opposing a national agreement. Only today the Mining Association, which represents the owners, issued a sort of manifesto against a national agreement and in favor of district settlements.

The statement issued by the Home Office late tonight, after quoting from the letter of Mr. Cook, says: "The Government considers this letter constitutes a basis sufficient to justify them requesting the Mining Association to resume the negotiations, and they are in communication with them accordingly." It adds that the Prime Minister is being kept fully informed of the course of events.

The miners' position has been weakening somewhat the last few days owing to the steady, if slow, drift back to work in the Midland counties, where at present 10,000 men are at work back in the mines.

NANAIMO CANDIDATE GIVEN BIG OVATION

MR. C. H. DICKIE SPEAKS TO BIG CROWD AT WEST SOOKE GATHERING

Old Age Pensions Bill is Mere Gesture of Liberalism—Mr. Dickie Promises Practical Measure

Mr. C. H. Dickie, Conservative candidate for the Nanaimo electoral district, was given an enthusiastic ovation last night when he spoke before a large audience at West Sooke.

Mr. Dickie discussed with much vigor the Customs scandal, the tariff, the Old Age Pension Bill, the Australian Treaty, and the revaluation of returned soldiers' land.

In dealing with the Customs scandal, Mr. Dickie pointed out that there was no question that a vote of censure had been passed on the Government, and that the necessity for that vote was proved by the fact that Miss Macphail and Mr. Kennedy had both voted for the motion.

Speaking of the protective policy regarding the protection of industries in Canada, he cited the fact that Mr. Meighen's story is the same throughout Canada. He quoted figures in regard to the importation of eggs from the United States, and stated that the protective policy should apply to farm products.

Mr. Dickie then switched his discussion to the Old Age Pension Bill, and declared that it had been a mere gesture of the Liberal Government. Mr. Meighen, he said, had promised to bring in a practical pension scheme, and that promise would be kept, as Mr. Meighen's promises had been kept in the past.

The condition of the Australian Treaty, he said, laid the burden on the farmers in Canada, whereas, in Australia, the burden of the concessions granted was spread over the population generally.

The attitude of the Conservatives in regard to the revaluation of soldiers' land favored the giving of relief when relief was necessary. The method which was presented under the Liberal Government's bill was not satisfactory, and the power to give the final decision should be in the hands of a county court judge, as such a judge was usually familiar with land values.

The representatives of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, he explained, together with the soldier and his representative, could present their valuation for the judge's consideration, and if there was to be any trifling area of collusion between them, others who were familiar with land values in that district, could be called in.

Charles R. P. Malheon spoke briefly on the constitutional question and on the Customs scandal.

Following the speeches, a dance was held in the hall.

SIR HENRY GAUVAIN TO OPEN SOLARIUM

Sir Henry Gauvain's name known throughout the world. As medical superintendent since its inception of the Lord Mayor Trevelyan Hospital and College, Alton and Hayling Island, England, he has brought to the attention of the medical profession and the layman alike the amazing advantages of sunshine, fresh air, and salt-water bathing in the treatment and cure of tuberculosis. He has treated hundreds of whom have been rendered straightened, and strengthened, and sent forth into the world not only cured of their bodily disease, but splendidly equipped to earn their own livelihood. For an important feature of the Trevelyan hospital is the provision of a teacher and vocational classes, so that boys and girls many of whom are under treatment for years do not miss the advantages of education.

A Famous Surgeon
Sir Henry Gauvain enjoys a distinguished reputation as a surgeon, quite apart from his association with the Trevelyan Hospital at Hayling. He is honorary consulting surgeon to the King Edward VII. Welsh National Memorial Association for the treatment of tuberculosis; is also consulting surgeon in tuberculosis work to the London County Council; is consultant in surgical tuberculosis to the Essex County Council; consultant in non-pulmonary tuberculosis to the Hampshire County; and consulting orthopaedic surgeon to the United Service Fund Hospital for crippled children at Heatherwood, Ascot.

He is also consulting surgeon to King George's association for sailors, Bramshott, and examiner in tuberculosis for the University of Wales. A son of the late William Gauvain, H.M. Prisoner-General, Alton, Channel Islands, and educated at St. John's College, Cambridge and St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, his special interest as a surgeon has been along the lines of orthopaedic surgery and treatment of tuberculosis. He is a frequent and authoritative contributor to medical journals and other publications on the latter subject particularly.

Lady Gauvain, whom he married in 1913, is the daughter of Surgeon-Major William Butler.

SIXTEEN MEN DIE IN OKLAHOMA COAL MINE

Explosion Attributed to Gas Occurred—One Hundred and Thirty-Eight Miners Were at Work

RDADY POINT, Okla., Sept. 3.—Mine 29, of the Superior Smelting and Coal & Mining Company, at Tahona, scene of an explosion and fire early today. Twelve believed to have been trapped sixteen men, began to give up its dead today.

Three bodies had been recovered from the shattered workings in search of others of the missing men. Hopes that any of the remaining thirteen men known to be in the mine might come out alive dwindled with discovery of the bodies. The only thing living found in the entry of "74 West," when rescuers first entered, was a mule.

The explosion, attributed to gas, occurred shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. At the time 118 men were at work in the mine, but with exception of the sixteen caught in entry 74 West all made their way to the surface. Several were severely injured.

Two Young Men Are Found Gassed in Well

HALKIRK, Alta., Sept. 3.—Missing from their homes for four days, two brothers, Ted and Victor Latta, were discovered dead at the bottom of a well of the Prairie Creek School by neighbors who had become alarmed by their disappearance. The young men are twenty-one and twenty-three years, respectively. It is believed the young men were gassed while descending to clean the well. Coats hanging to the young men near the well first led to attention being drawn to the spot, and grappling irons were immediately secured and the bodies recovered.

PANTAGES CIRCUIT IS NOW IN STRIKE

Walkout Ordered in Sixty Orpheum and Sixty-Four Pantages Theatres by Musicians' Union

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—Extension of the theatre strike, which began here Wednesday with a walkout of musicians, stage hands and motion picture operators, to the sixty-four Pantages circuit was ordered tonight by the musicians' union.

The order becomes effective tomorrow and means that a second complete vaudeville circuit will be effected, a walkout in the sixty Orpheum theatres, effective Sunday already having been ordered. A number of musical acts which come under the jurisdiction of the musicians' union also have been instructed to stop work.

With the spread of the strike, the possibility loomed that theatre owners and operators will establish a national lockout against union employees.

MR. DONAGHY SPEAKS OF OLD AGE PENSIONS

He Says It Is Conservative Who Make Statements About Bill That Are Misleading

VANCOUVER, Sept. 3.—"If there is one policy about which a man through greed of office should scorn to make misrepresentations, it is humanitarian legislation which takes care of people when they are old and helpless," declared Mr. Dugald Donaghy, Liberal candidate for Vancouver Central at a meeting in Grandview Theatre this evening.

Mr. Donaghy devoted his whole time to the Old Age Pensions Bill and criticisms which Conservative speakers have levelled at that measure, accusing the Conservatives of having made statements which were misleading and incorrect.

Reference to Heirs
"The Old Age Pensions Bill does not confiscate the homes of pensioners," stated Mr. Donaghy. "It deals with justice with an even hand, and kindness where kindness is due. The aged widow of a pensioner does not lose her home by her husband's death. The act provides that when the heir of a pensioner is another pensioner, or when the heir is one who has contributed towards the pensioner's support, no claim against the estate shall be made by the pension authority. But who will say the undutiful son who refuses to augment that meagre allowance of $12 a month is entitled to generosity under the act?"

Mr. Meighen's remarks in Parliament on this section, said Mr. Donaghy, were to the effect that it did not go far enough to protect the Government.

"There is nothing in the act which deprives a pensioner of his vote, as alleged. That statement is untrue," said Mr. Donaghy, who read the section pertaining to votes.

THE LITTLE THREEPENNY BIT
(There has been considerable agitation in the Old Country to abolish the threepenny piece, and in defending it in the House of Commons, Mr. Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said he intended to retain it because it was popular in the North.)

CHINESE GANGSTERS BEHAVE IN NEW YORK

Chinatown No Longer Rendezvous for Opium Addicts and Gamblers—Historic Places Vanish

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Chinatown no longer is the rendezvous for opium and gambling addicts. Recently there is a Tong war and with the authorities always on guard little trouble between the Chinese and white people arises. Littering and conversation on the streets is forbidden.

This strip of territory occupies less than a square mile, but within its limits are to be found everything from local postoffice to Joss House. Even the corner square has its bulletin board with the news happenings of the day.

The narrow, misty streets are filled with the odor of all kinds of vegetable piled high, the store windows and outside hang many drying in the sunlight. This is a means of preservation. For these people will keep their supply anywhere from a week to six months, providing the outer skin has not been broken.

Their jewelry shops are to be boasted of far on display are exquisite hand-carved gold rings, bracelets and other ornaments. Jade, a stone highly prized by the Chinese, also is on sale.

Few historic places remain that at one time gave Chinatown its intriguing and mysterious name. Only the bare outlines of the gambling and opium dens once patronized by "Goon" (Goon) is to be seen. This place was a scene of splendor, the furnishings being carved out in solid and teakwood. Boarded up are underground passageways that led for blocks, enabling these people to flee from the authorities when warned of approaching danger.

A visit to the Joss House costs fifty cents, which is said to aid the high priest in paying $25,000 a year for the honor of holding this position. He is permitted to leave the building but once a year.

The altar of this temple is of carved gold and required three generations to complete. It is the same one on which Lillian Gish lay in one of the scenes in "Broken Blossoms."

On the wall is hung a huge bulletin board containing names of people who have died. This board serves as mausoleum or tombstone. The Chinese do not believe in spending large sums of money for the erection of memorials. Instead, if a man is wealthy, a certain amount of his money is taken toward the notation of his name on the board.

Fire Bars Entrance To Wrecked Stop
POTEAU, Okla., Sept. 3.—Bodies of sixteen miners who lost their lives when two blasts wrecked Stop 74, West in Mine No. 29 of the Superior Smelting and Coal & Mining Company at Tahona, were located by rescue squad tonight, according to information reaching here.

The bodies were not brought out of the mine because of fire which barred the entrance.

SPAIN WILL NOT ABANDON LEAGUE

TEMPORARY ABSTENTION ANNOUNCED, BUT NOT PERMANENT WITHDRAWAL

Germany Only Is Given Permanent Seat in Council, But Semi-Permanent Places Created

GENEVA, Sept. 3.—Although the report of the commission which has been formulating a plan for reorganization of the League of Nations Council figured prominently on the agenda, this afternoon's session of the council did not discuss the report, devoting the time to routine business.

The report, which was completed by the commission early today, recommended that only Germany be given a permanent council seat at the present time, and that the number of non-permanent seats be increased to nine. It is stipulated that Latin American States be given three of the non-permanent seats, while the holders of three non-permanent seats be pronounced eligible for re-election at the expiration of their three-year terms.

These latter "semi-permanent" seats were decided upon to satisfy Spain, Poland and China, who are seeking permanent membership in the council.

Spain's Representative Absent
Spain, whose aspirations for a permanent council seat are denied in the commission's report, sent no representative to the council table today.

Senor Falco, who has been fighting his country's battle in the reorganization commission, announced that he was leaving Geneva tomorrow to readjust his residence at the Spanish Legation in Berlin, where he will await instructions from Madrid.

Spanish circles here affirm that Spain will not be represented at the present session of the council and assembly, but they emphasize that this absence only constitutes abstention and in no way precludes complete withdrawal from the League of Nations' activities.

M. Emil Vandervelde, Belgian Foreign Minister, at this afternoon's council session, reported a definite and valuable work was done by the conference by representatives of new agencies held under League auspices at Geneva on August 19, with a view to arranging a programme for the proposed international press conference.

"Inquisitorial Spirit"
Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, and M. Briand, French Foreign Minister, during discussion of the report of the Permanent Mandates Commission, took occasion to chide that body for what they considered its tendency to develop an "inquisitorial spirit." This they pointed out was evidenced by the handing out of questionnaires to the mandatory powers and the granting of audiences indiscriminately to petitioners from mandate territories without previous investigation to determine the good faith of the complainants.

The council will meet again tomorrow morning.

PUBLICITY PLAYS IMPORTANT PART

COMMUNITY ADVERTISING IS SHOWN TO HAVE BEARING IN DEVELOPMENT

Mr. C. H. Webster and Mr. H. C. Gray
Address Business Men—Figures
Given by Mr. H. B. Ker

The value of community publicity was brought before a gathering of local business men who assembled yesterday at noon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms for a luncheon held under the auspices of the Chamber. The two speakers were Mr. Charles H. Webster, publicity commissioner of Vancouver, and Mr. Harold Gray, executive secretary of the Puget Sound-British Columbia Association.

Mr. Webster said that in publicity work in Vancouver there were two classes—one that did the talking and one that did the work. He could not get any of the talkers to come so he had to take that end over on his visit.

The Greater Vancouver Publicity Bureau had formerly devoted all its time to attracting tourists. In this connection he referred to the Puget Sound-British Columbia Association and the work it had done. This was now in its third year and controlled some $38,000 devoted to publicity.

Work in the East
His organization had this year devoted considerable attention to working in Washington State. This fall a campaign would be commenced on the Prairies and he had come here to endeavor to get the co-operation of Victoria in this line.

It was proposed also to have advertising placed in Eastern Canada. Victoria would be asked to join in this with a contribution of $3,000 to the $5,000 put up by Vancouver. The Government was being urged to supplement this.

The advertising was not devoted to the tourist business alone. Eastern field. He had had $17 inquiries from this source asking about opportunities all over British Columbia and not confined to Greater Vancouver.

The tourist traffic by automobile into Vancouver had increased this year over ten per cent over last year. It was said that some other lines there had been a falling off. The cheap cabin rates to Europe had probably had something to do with curtailing of tourist trade to the Pacific. The Alaska traffic had not diminished and the trip around Vancouver Island proved very popular.

The building of good roads was very essential to the tourist trade as well as commercial enterprises. The speaker favored doing something to develop the industries of the Province. The increasing of the East it was a step in that direction. It might aid in diverting the steps of the 200,000 young people that went to the United States.

Industrial Possibilities
Ships coming into British Columbia ports in ballast to take grain and other products might bring in raw materials to be manufactured here. The climatic conditions made this an ideal spot for manufacturing. It was felt that the strategic position for world trade would be on the Pacific. He advocated an industrial survey as an aid in this direction. An industry employing 1,000 people guaranteed a population of 10,000. Mr. Webster made a plea for the smaller industries rather than for very large ones.

Co-operation between Victoria and Vancouver was of great importance. He also pleaded for the support of the Publicity Bureau. Mr. Harold Gray, of Seattle, reviewed the history of publicity in his city. Men who came as tourists often stayed and invested in industry. The American bankers were coming to Seattle in a short time. He would be surprised if these men were not astonished at the development of the city in thirty years.

Seattle was not in future going to buy conventions. Every opportunity would be afforded conventions to meet there, but these would have to finance themselves while in the city. The growth of Seattle in the last few years had been simultaneous with the advertising campaign in the city. The need of getting those who profited from the advertising to join in the work of the Chamber of Commerce was stressed by the speaker.

Mr. Schwenger, in his opening remarks, said he felt every resident of British Columbia was proud of being a citizen of this Province when it was realized what had been done in this part of Canada in a short time. He felt that, while the relations between Victoria and Vancouver had not always been just what they should have been, there was no question that the two cities should be of mutual assistance.

Mayor Pendray moved a vote of thanks to the speakers. If Victoria was to progress there must be more money spent on publicity work. The $25,000 subscribed by the City Council was not enough to insure the needed publicity.

Mr. H. B. Ker, president of the Publicity Bureau, seconded the vote, adding that the Bureau was starting on a campaign to get $10,000 by subscription for this year. In connection with the tourist business Mr. Ker said that people sometimes did not realize just what it meant in the industrial life of the country. He had just received a message from Toronto setting out the figures prepared by The Financial Post relative to the subject. This showed that in 1924 the tourist trade represented in Canada $124,000,000; in 1925 it rose to $190,000,000, while in 1924 it went to $225,000,000.

As the British Columbia end represented about thirty-five per cent of this the figures indicated that this Province's output of this trade in 1924 about $44,000,000; in 1925, $64,000,000, and in 1926, $79,000,000 (estimate).

Compared with other industries these figures showed up well, making the tourist trade one of our leading industries. The figures of The Financial Post showed further in this respect that in British Columbia in agriculture the showing for the year was $65,000,000; fishing, $23,500,000; lumber, $52,000,000; mining, $61,500,000; manufacturing, $260,000,000 (estimate), and fur, $1,500,000.

NOMINATION DAY IS ON TUESDAY NEXT

Mr. John Clay, Returning Officer, Sits at Noon—Advanced Poll Arranged

Candidates for the Federal election which takes place on Tuesday, September 14, will be nominated here on Tuesday of next week. On that day, Mr. John Clay, returning officer for Victoria electoral riding, will attend at the County Court room in the Court House for the purpose of receiving nominations.

Mr. Clay will sit from 12 o'clock noon to 2 o'clock in the afternoon for this purpose.

The advance poll in the city will be held on three evenings before the regular voting day, namely, on Friday, Saturday and Monday immediately preceding September 14. This is arranged for the purpose of affording sailors, railwaymen and commercial travelers, who do not expect to be in the city on polling day, the opportunity to cast their ballots before that date.

In order to take advantage of the provisions for voting at the advanced poll, it will be necessary for those who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity to go before the returning officer and obtain a certificate setting out qualifications to vote and anticipation of absence from the city.

When they vote, which may be done at Room 314, Helmut Building, on the dates set out, this certificate will be given over to the deputy returning officer on duty. If they do not avail themselves of this opportunity, they will have to relinquish the certificate before being allowed to vote on September 14.

SIR JAMES AIKINS HEADS BAR SOCIETY

Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba Is Again Chosen President of Canadian Association

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Sept. 3.—The Canadian Bar Association at its final business session here this morning, re-elected for the eleventh consecutive time Sir James Aikins, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, as president. Sir James has been the honor of the head of this organization since its inception.

The association declined to take any action on a proposed resolution expressing regret that the Canadian Parliament had passed a resolution requesting His Majesty the King to confer more titles or like honors on Canadian citizens.

In the absence of Hon. Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, Justice I. A. Forin, of Nelson, B.C., presided at this morning's session. Besides the resolution referring to the Canadian Parliament, the association decided not to pass on one which recommended the formation of a patents and trade marks section of the association.

The following officers and councillors were among those recommended for election: President—Sir James Aikins, K.C., LL.D., Winnipeg.

Secretary-treasurer—E. H. Coleman, Winnipeg.

Vice-president (for British Columbia)—Hon. Justice Morrison, Vancouver.

For British Columbia it was decided to have the same councillors as last year.

FUEL OIL CASE WILL GO TO SUPREME COURT

Government of Province Decides to Test Out Judgments Delivered in This Province

There will be an appeal taken by British Columbia to the Supreme Court of Canada to affirm, if possible, the right of the Province to enact the legislation imposing a tax upon the use of fuel oil in the Province.

In the Provincial courts the steamship companies which, as large users of fuel oil, were the parties directly affected, have won in the original trial before Mr. Justice Morrison and again in the Court of Appeal.

The Provincial Government is taking an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada at the Fall sitting of that Court with the prospect in view that there may be an appeal later to the Privy Council by one of the parties to the litigation. The Canadian Pacific Railway and the Union Steamship Companies are named as parties to the action which centres about legislation passed in this Province in 1923.

To Protect Coal
The object of the legislation was set out at the time of its enactment to be to lend some protection to the coal industry in this Province, which was being affected, it was alleged, by the conversion of steamships to oil burners and the consequent importations of fuel oil from outside the Province.

The Act made provision that the fuel oil tax should be imposed upon the first company to make use of it after its importation into the Province or after its manufacture in the Province.

The supply was obtained by the transportation companies from the Union Oil Company in the Province. In his judgment in the first instance, Mr. Justice Morrison held that the law was ultra vires as far as the Province was concerned. He held that it was a Customs duty or a protective tariff and therefore an indirect tax, and as such did not come within the right of the Provincial Legislature to enact.

HON. S. F. TOLMIE TO RETURN NEXT WEEK

SERIES OF WARD MEETINGS TO BE ARRANGED FOR LAST DAYS OF CAMPAIGN

Minister of Agriculture Will Address Several of Them—Big Rally Next Week at Esquimalt

The final week of the election campaign in this city will be marked by a series of meetings, to be held in various wards, in the interests of Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Federal Minister of Agriculture. The meetings will probably commence with one in Victoria West, on Tuesday evening.

The details of the meetings are being worked out by the campaign committee of the Conservative executive. Speakers and halls will be announced shortly.

While Dr. Tolmie will be absent a little longer from his home, aiding his party on the Lower Mainland, he expects to arrive back in Victoria before next week is far spent and will be able to address the electors at several of the meetings that will be called here in the closing days of the campaign.

Will Be Here for Close

The Minister of Agriculture is in great demand in various parts of the province, which makes it difficult for him to give his personal attention to his own campaign in this city. He expects, however, to be in a position to spend the greater part of the final week with his own electors.

The coming week promises to be an active one all over the Province as, indeed, it will be elsewhere in the Dominion among the candidates.

Mr. C. H. Dickie, the Conservative candidate for Nanaimo riding, will hold a meeting at East Sooke tonight and also one at Metchoan. On Monday he will be at Cobble Hill, and on Tuesday at Langford and Colwood.

Will Be Here for Close

Wednesday evening there will be a big rally in the Sailors' Club at Esquimalt in the interests of Mr. Dickie, who will address the gathering. It is also expected that Hon. S. F. Tolmie will be present on that occasion.

On the afternoon of the same day there will be a gathering of the ladies of Saanich at Saanich Community Hall, North Quadra Street. This meeting will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and will afford an opportunity for Mr. Dickie to meet his supporters among the women of the Saanich district, and to discuss with them the issues of the election.

The members of the Government of the Province will give their whole time during this closing week to the interests of the Dominion Liberals, who are fighting to retain a foothold in the Province of British Columbia.

Ministers Active

Premier Oliver, after giving a lot of time to aiding his freight rate expert in North Vancouver and jolting himself into a position where he is in duty bound to vote for Dr. Tolmie, will tour the whole of the Province in an effort to rally support to the Liberal cause.

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, who usually does not give as much time to electioneering as the other ministers, has left for the North to help Mr. Fred Stork, in Skeena. He promises to wage a fierce fight.

Locally, the Liberals have a series of ward meetings for the week, and Mr. C. H. O'Halloran, the party candidate in Nanaimo, will continue his campaign against the Conservatives in a series of meetings throughout the riding.

Obituary

DEVER—The funeral for the late Mrs. Mary S. Dever, who passed away in this city on August 30, will take place this afternoon, the cortege leaving the S. J. Interment will be made in the family plot at Rose Bay Cemetery.

EVEREST—The funeral of the late John W. Everest, who passed away last Tuesday, was held yesterday afternoon from McCall Bros' Funeral Chapel. The Rev. A. L. Nixon conducted the service, which was attended by many friends. During the ceremony, the hymn "Auld Wae Me" was sung. In the chapel the casket was banked with many beautiful flowers, giving testimony to the high esteem in which Mr. Everest was held. Interment was made in the Royal Oak Burial Park. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. A. Christie, Wilton, W. Townsend, J. Greenwood, A. Downs and C. Nickerson.

FEEDER STOCK AID APPLIES TO WEST

Travelling Expenses to Feeder Shows Will Be Allowed Westerners as Well as Easterners

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—Following the announcement last night from the Federal Department of Agriculture, of regulations to facilitate purchase of feeder cattle through feeder shows in Western Canada, inquiries have been made as to whether Westerners as well as Easterners will be allowed travelling expenses.

The arrangement whereby the livestock branch in Ottawa will pay reasonable travelling expenses of farmers traveling with a car load or more of cattle applies to Western farmers traveling to the shows as well as Easterners bringing cattle from the shows in car loads.

The expense allowance is provided only to bona fide attendants of the cattle and applies only to feeder cattle. Technically it applies only to and from feeder shows, but in the case of the Western purchaser a little more latitude will be allowed.

Well-Known Figure Is Called by Death

THE funeral of the late Dr. T. W. Butler, religious thinker, author and lecturer, who passed away Thursday evening at his apartment, 1002 Vancouver Street, will take place on Tuesday at 2 o'clock, from the Sands Funeral Chapel, and the body will be laid to rest in the family plot at Rose Bay Cemetery. The late Dr. Butler was born in Woodwich, England, and had been a resident of this city for the last fifteen years. He is survived by a daughter, one son and three brothers.

Mayor Pendray to Represent City at Good Roads Parley

MAYOR Carl Pendray was appointed by the City Council yesterday to represent the City of Victoria at the annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association, which will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 28, 29 and 30, at Edmonton, Alberta.

The city was also invited to send a delegate to the convention of the Canadian Boards of Trade, which will take place on the same dates, in Saint John, New Brunswick, but the Council found that it would be impossible to have representation at the gathering.

CANOE CONDITIONS IDEAL IN CANADA

Water Courses Have Many Attractions—More Canoeing Better Than Indian Craft

No country in the world offers as much to the canoeist as does Canada. No country has the same combination of wealth of historic association, and suitable streams and lakes offering alternative routes and flowing through a virgin country of unknown treasures. But besides the strong imaginative appeal and beautiful and varied scenery, Canada enjoys an "excellent" summer climate—a prime requisite for an enjoyable canoe trip.

Early Canadian history and the development of the fur trade are closely connected with the water courses, for the exploratory and early adventures naturally followed the water routes, trails, and portages previously selected by the Indian pathfinders, and today canoeing is a popular mode of travel. The North still follows the tracks pursued by the Indians in their travels to new hunting grounds, or in their inter-tribal communications.

The craft, too, designed by the Indian for its buoyancy, its lightness in portage, and its capacity to provide a cover quickly in case of need, was adopted by the white man and has remained the model upon which the unrivalled Canadian canoe is fashioned. Yet while the original idea of the Indian survives, improved methods of construction have produced a swifter, stronger and generally superior canoe to the primitive birch-bark model.

The canoeist can taste again the thrills and pleasures of the voyageurs as they explored the vast Canadian stage of being in a position to plan his route, from start to finish, beforehand, having available the accumulated experience of the many who have gone before. Whether he chooses a short fifty-mile trip or travels by canoe from the mouth of the Mackenzie River, on the shores of the Arctic Ocean, to the Bay of Fundy—a distance of fully 4,500 miles—in either case he is able to secure exact information on the nature of the route he selects, and to work according to schedule.

Vancouver Export Business Trebles

VANCOUVER, Sept. 3.—Vancouver's foreign export trade has increased 300 per cent, and its import trade 51 per cent in a period of five years, according to Mr. H. R. McMillan, retiring president of the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange. In his address to the members at the annual meeting in the Hotel Vancouver today. In 1921, Mr. McMillan stated, Vancouver shipped 579,000 tons of merchandise to foreign countries to the value of $50,000,000. In 1925 the merchandise had increased to 2,939,000 tons, value $129,000,000.

Body Is Not That of Minneapolis Man

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 3.—Belief that the body of a man found floating in the Fraser River on Thursday was that of Clarence Peppard, Minneapolis, who disappeared from his hotel in Vancouver on December 10 last, was discounted this afternoon when word was received from Mr. Peppard's brother in Chilliwack, that the body worn by his brother was quite different from those of the man taken from the river.

SERIOUS CHARGE MADE BY LIBERAL

MR. H. H. SHANDLEY SAYS CONSERVATIVES INTEND TO DENATIONALIZE C.N.R.

Mr. Carew Martin Outlines Improvement in Railway's Finances During Liberal Administration

Charging the Conservative party with the intention of denationalizing the Canadian National Railway, Mr. H. H. Shandley supported Mr. Carew Martin, Liberal candidate for Victoria in the Federal election, at a meeting held in the Hollywood district last night. Mr. H. P. Hodges was chairman.

Mr. Shandley endeavored to show that the C. N. R. was backed by influential New York interests who wanted the C. N. R. denationalized to do away with the competition. He accused Hon. E. J. Patterson of being head of the Montreal interests wishing to see the C. N. R. disorganized. He charged this minister with having converted Premier Bennett to the policy of denationalizing the Canadian National Railway.

"R. B. Bennett, K. C., of Calgary, we find up to a short time ago was director of the Canadian Pacific Railway. McElhen has appointed him Minister of Finance. Can't you see the nigger in the woodpile? As Minister of finance he has control over the Canadian National Railway's finances," Mr. Shandley declared.

The so-called war-time policy of the Conservative party was again attacked by Mr. Carew Martin, who asserted that he believed that Premier McElhen was unqualified to make the unjust and unfounded charge that Conservatives were back of the Liberal party in the light of his statement at Hamilton outlining his war-time policy.

How the C. N. R. was improved under the Liberal administration was also dwelt upon. Mr. Carew Martin stated that in 1921, when the Conservatives were in power, the C. N. R. showed an operating deficit of $30,000,000. Since the Liberal party took it away from political influences the railway had shown an operating profit. Last year, the speaker said, the operating profit was $38,000,000 and it was estimated that this year's operating profit would reach $50,000,000 and more. "This situation regarding the National Railway's finances exists today because the Liberal party has kept it clean of politics," Mr. Martin asserted.

Reviewing the Liberal record of the past three years, Mr. Martin emphasized that the Liberals had been responsible for bringing about a reduction of $14,000,000 in taxes annually. "Mr. McElhen says in regard to the penny postage that it would not save a man twenty-seven cents a year. But I contend that if it only saved one person one cent a year, that is more than the McElhen Government ever did during its term of office."

"The Conservatives have nothing but denunciation and criticisms to offer, but I want you to remember on September 14 what the Liberal Government has done for the people of Canada. Remember the reductions in taxation, fulfilling the promises made at the last election, and above all remember that Mr. King and Mr. Robb have again pledged themselves to give the people of Canada a further reduction in taxation if returned at this election."

BOOK STORE WILL FIGHT SOCIALISM

LONDON, Sept. 3.—London's Socialist book store is to have an anti-Socialist competitor. Its slogan is, "Back to Herbert Spencer," and its moving spirit is Sir Ernest Benn, the publisher. His associates in the enterprise include a ship owner, a Liverpool banker, a member of Parliament and an ironmaster.

"We shall certainly not stock Marx," Sir Ernest said, "but it is difficult to give offhand a list of sound thinkers."

Defining sound literature, Sir Ernest said, "It is literature which seeks to explain the present economic system and show how it works rather than to advocate new systems."

"We shall sell," he said, "the sound economic and social writers of an earlier generation before so many economists went off on the wrong track. Cannan is sound enough in the present generation, and so, I suppose, was Marshall, but we want to get back, especially to Herbert Spencer. PARIS, Sept. 3.—The Hotel de Paris at Monte Carlo made profits of 8,405,000 francs, allowing the dividend to be increased from 16 to 27 1/2 per cent, says a published report. A Notice to Telephone Users

In accordance with the latest telephone practice, the Victoria telephone exchange has been equipped with the "busy back," which will be in use within the next few days.

The "busy back" is an audible electric signal which replaces the well-known phrase, "That line is busy."

When a telephone user calls a busy line, the operator will no longer tell him that the line is busy. Instead he will hear an intermittent clicking sound which will continue until he hangs up the receiver.

SCHEDULE FOR BUS SERVICE SUGGESTED

Legislative Committee Makes Recommendations to Council Concerning Haultain District Route

That it would be in the best interests of the community in the Haultain district if an up-to-date bus service could be inaugurated upon a proper and regular schedule, was the opinion of the civic legislative committee in its report to the City Council yesterday.

The legislative committee recommended to the Council that a by-law be introduced, requiring the running of buses on the Haultain route, and further recommended that the interests of those who are now operating upon that route be given every consideration possible.

The above recommendations were submitted to the Council, following the legislative committee's consideration of the following letter from Mr. E. R. Etheridge, of 427 Yates Street: "I am considering putting up an up-to-date bus service to the end of Haultain street, via Yates, Fernwood and Haultain. These buses would be modern in every respect, of twenty-passenger capacity, and street carrying capacity, according to the law now in effect. This would give me an opportunity to compete, and also prevent them from running at any hour of the day that might suit their convenience, thus taking the cream of the traffic."

Several of the aldermen stated that they understood that good service was being given by Haultain district by the existing jitneys, and thought that the jitney owners who had "held the fort in the past" should be given consideration at this time.

On the suggestion of Alderman Clearhue, the matter was left on the table for a period of one week.

CAMPAIGN TO BE LAUNCHED THURSDAY

New Cathedral Effort Is Being Organized, With Home-to-Home Canvass Suggested

The campaign for funds to build the nave of the new Christ Church Cathedral will be launched on September 3, when the Bishop of Columbia will make an official announcement at the meeting in the Royal Victoria Theatre to be addressed by the Bishop of London. Committees are already organized to conduct the canvass in the city and diocese.

Details of the campaign were discussed at a meeting of the executive committee, held in the Bishop's room, Memorial Hall, last night. Mr. F. E. Winslow presiding. It was proposed that the canvass should be undertaken in progressive stages. The preliminary effort will be made in the city between September 19 and 14. On September 15, all workers for the canvass in the city and district parishes are to be invited to a gathering in the Memorial Hall, where they will be addressed by the Bishop of Columbia and other speakers. On the following day, a house-to-house canvass will be begun in certain sections of the city.

It was explained that the building of the new Cathedral was a great undertaking, and that the assistance of every one favorable to the project was required in order to reach the financial goal. One reason for visiting every house was stated to be that the committee desired to give every member of the Anglican Church in the district the opportunity of contributing to the building of the Cathedral, and also others who wished to help.

Reports from up-Island parishes indicated that the canvass in the central diocese would be undertaken in October, and in the northern diocese during November, although each parish would be free to choose what it considered the most appropriate time to suit local circumstances.

UNDER THE CLOCK

City Hall Activities in Brief

Mr. W. A. Lorimer was appointed by the City Council yesterday as acting city treasurer and collector during the absence from the City Hall of Mr. Edwin C. Smith, city treasurer and collector, who shortly will have a two weeks' holiday.

Victoria's delegates to the recent annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, Aldermen J. H. Clearhue, R. A. C. Dewar, W. H. Cullin, P. R. Brown and William Marchant, presented a report of the Vernon gathering to the City Council yesterday. They stated that the convention was one of the most successful ever held.

The building inspector has been ordered to arrange the removal of the stable and shed in the rear of 812 Pandora Avenue and buildings on Lot 184, known as 809 Johnson Street, by October 20.

Permission was given to the W. L. Morgan Fuel Company, Limited, to install a 50-gallon gasoline tank opposite the residence of Mr. H. H. Lindsay, under the boulevard on the south side of Woodstock Avenue, between Marlborough and Cambridge Streets.

The city will be prepared to pay $120, half the cost of installing a wooden sidewalk on the north side of Johnson Street, between Camosun Street and Fernwood Road, as the present sidewalk, a wooden one, is, in the opinion of the city engineer, beyond repair.

The public works committee will consider an application from Messrs. J. R. Kingham & Company for a gas tank and pump permit at 409 Bay Street, in view of the fact that the Chief of the Fire Department recommended another location. Chief Stewart said there was a gas tank, but no pump, at the garage directly opposite, and with a pump on this location, for private purposes, the public would be confused.

The recommendation of the electric light committee that an electric light be placed at the corner of Chambers and Bay Streets was adopted.

Fashion Notes

Long Evening Dresses
American women, blamed by their British sisters for having started the short skirt style, are now credited with helping to put over the new fashion of ankle length evening dresses.

Stylish Vest Comb
The handkerchief is not now allowed to peep out of the right hand pocket of a woman's dinner jacket. It has been replaced by a smart little comb, which may be of green or blue, or tortoise-shell incrustured with rubies, emeralds or other precious stones. Its mission is to repress any rebellious hair that threatens to disturb the harmony of the flat and shiny coiffure of the moment, a coiffure that must not show the slightest suspicion of a wave.

No Evening Stockings
Some of Mayfair's smartest women again adopted the "no-socking" fashion for evening wear during the hot spell, but so well were various shades of powder used that it was difficult to detect whether they were or were not wearing stockings. Special shades of colored powder were artistically used to match the gowns worn, and some completed the illusion by having a faint line to simulate the seam of stocking painted down the back of the leg.

Snail Shell Hats
London women have gone to the gardens and hedges for something new in hat styles and have evolved a type for the "Fall" which is almost an exact replica of the snail shell.

The colors used in the makeup—green and grey—assist the illusion created by the snail-like swathing of the drapery.

The Neapolitan fishermen's hat often has been copied in knitted material for seaside wear, but Bond Street milliners have appropriated the shape for their smartest felt creations and are producing it in many colors.

Perfume Paste
Like the daughter of Kings in the Song of Solomon, on whom sweet ointment was poured, Miss 1224 takes her perfume from a jar. From Paris has come this latest sweet frivolity—tiny painted or enameled jars of perfume paste, easy to slip into the purse, unappetizable and fragrant with all the "smarter" accents.

An excellent report of the Summer camp was given by Miss Snyder. Miss Creech, teacher of social case work in the University of Oregon, gave a helpful and interesting address, and answered many questions asked her on social service work.

Fashions and Foibles

By Shirley Sharon

"Eccleis" is the French name for the shell-like shape of the circular frills placed in tier formation on a one-piece frock. The slightest movement puts them in quiver while in the Charleston they become as violently agitated as wall fly in a windstorm. There are three important types of evening dress this season. The very elegant headed frock, the almost equally distinguished frock of lace and the plain fabric dress that uses its cut for its trimming. The last is the most useful, for it can be worn anywhere and its cost is limited to the length of georgette or crepe de Chine that makes it, while the machine hemstitcher does most of the finishing for you.

Ladies' Guild Resumes Meetings Once More

The Victoria branch of the Ladies' Guild for Sailors met for the first time since the holidays at the Connaught Seamen's Institute Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Alice Thomson, the president, in the chair.

The affairs of the Guild at the commencement of the season were shown to be in a very satisfactory condition, and plans for the observance of Trafalgar Day were discussed, and the committee instructed to arrange suitable entertainment.

Mrs. P. G. Clarke brought a message of appreciation and thanks to the Ladies' Guild of the Connaught Seamen's Institute, and particularly to Miss Beyer, from the officers of H.M.S. Curlew for the devoted attention and kindness shown during the five weeks' illness and recent death of a young member of the crew, Sister McAlvery.

Mrs. Goodlake, convener of the wool committee, exhibited a splendid collection of socks and jerseys made by members and friends of the Guild during the holidays, and wool was distributed to those who wished it.

Miss B. Pooley gave an interesting account of hospital visiting, and a number of money was voted for comfort and fruit in specific cases. Afternoon tea was served before the close of the meeting.

Weddings

Fettes-Peterson

Archibald, B.A., officiated in marriage Miss Florence Myrtle Peterson and Mr. John Belmont Fettes, both of Mount Newton. The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Edwin Hume, was lovely in a gown of coral georgette and a large hat to match and carried a bouquet of roses and maidenhair fern. Miss Hilda Jones was maid of honor and wore a frock of blue silk crepe and tawn hat trimmed with blue ribbon. Mr. E. Hume was best man. Mrs. Bastin, president at the organ, and the church was prettily decorated with pink and white asters. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a brooch, and to the best man a cuff link. After a honeymoon spent up-Island, Mr. and Mrs. Fettes will reside at Mount Newton.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters

John Parrish, who left his rich young wife, Audrey, because of her father's land, the poor husband's back to her house now as an employee of an electrical contractor, is to win him again. Meanwhile, her two girls, Marie and Alice, young and pretty, and their mother, Audrey, are waiting for a contest for the affections of Audrey's handsome father, Harry Morton. Marie previously has wanted Parrish for a moment, but when he begins to show interest she is deep in the pursuit of Morton, and opens Audrey's heart to her. Audrey, who has been in the pursuit of Morton, and opens Audrey's heart to her. Audrey, who has been in the pursuit of Morton, and opens Audrey's heart to her.

CHAPTER I

"Audrey—don't make me ridiculous! Parrish cried, taking her arm. He glanced at the delighted audience of two, grinning at them from the far corner of the room.

"Come on out!" he insisted, drawing her after him.

She resisted. "I wanted them to stop teasing you—I wanted to tell them you left me because I talked so much about—"

He clapped his hands over her mouth, and forced her into the hall, followed by the happy laughter of the workmen.

"Why did you do that?" he demanded, closing the door behind them. "There are some things you simply must not say. Can't you understand? Can't you ever understand?"

Her chin was quivering now, in grief. At a memory of something Marie and Nona had told her, she asked, haltingly:

"Would you like some ice cream, John?"

She was searching for his handkerchief. "Here," he said, offering her his own. "Why in the name of heaven do you want to see me?"

"I thought you might like some," she sobbed. "John—Oh, John, dear—"

He took her hand, and led her away from the door, and at the final word she cast herself into his arms. "Don't be so mean to me, sweetheart, when I love you so."

He rolled his eyes around helplessly. There was a movement in the room behind him. Putting his arm over her shoulder, he led her away from the door, and at the final word she cast herself into his arms. "Don't be so mean to me, sweetheart, when I love you so."

"My little girl room, John," she said, looking up at him fondly. "It's the dearest room in the world to me. Won't you take it, John? Just come up to it when you're through work. I'll send you dinner to you—you needn't eat with me, dearest boy."

"He inspected the apartment. 'That bed,' he said, 'is—'

She interrupted, her voice joyous with approaching victory. "It's too little," she finished for him. "But I'll have another bed moved in—you own bed, John—and a dresser. You won't mind the toy bathroom, will you?"

She pointed to the pink-tiled room adjoining with its tiny washstand and small porcelain tub, and nickel-eled shower built for a child of five.

"This room wasn't this way when I left," he said, looking again at the bed, and the case of dolls.

She hung to his arm. "I fixed it again when you left—I was so lonely some. I fixed it the way it was when I was a little girl, so I could come here and pretend I was happy again."

His eyes were moist as he listened. "It's too—it's too bad, Audrey," he said. "Yes, I'll come."

She let go of him, and looked after him fondly as he went back through the hall to the room where the men were working. When he had gone inside, she listened at the door.

"I'll have a dish of ice cream," one of the electricians was saying. "Don't you be mean to me now," ordered the other. "I won't kiss you if you're mean!"

Audrey flushed indignantly at these jibes aimed at her husband. Surprisingly, though, he only laughed. She could hear the sound of his chuckle.

"Go to it," he said. "If it amuses you, it's all right with me."

There were more words, briefly, and then the sound of hammering was resumed.

Morton came home that evening after six o'clock.

"Going to take Marie out to dinner," he began, "so—"

As he saw Audrey put her finger to her lip, her eyes bright with happiness.

She beckoned to him, and lifted through the hall. Mystified, he followed. At the door of his study she continued for him to halt, looking inside he saw Parrish. The young man was deep in a pile of papers that lay before him on Morton's desk.

At one elbow was Audrey's chair.

"How come?"

"She's been looking sad all afternoon—though she laughed when she talked to you, there in the yard. I saw her."

Morton went out into the hall and shut the door of the room where Parrish sat. Returning, he said, "You think Nona likes me still, do you?"

"She loves you," Audrey said, promptly. "You know it as well as I do."

Soberly, he assented. "I have thought something of the kind. The girl came close to him. 'You ought to do something definite, daily. Nona listens for your every footstep, and Marie's sure you're going to marry her—marry Marie. Which one do you like best?'"

She pointed to the pink-tiled room adjoining with its tiny washstand and small porcelain tub, and nickel-eled shower built for a child of five.

"This room wasn't this way when I left," he said, looking again at the bed, and the case of dolls.

She hung to his arm. "I fixed it again when you left—I was so lonely some. I fixed it the way it was when I was a little girl, so I could come here and pretend I was happy again."

His eyes were moist as he listened. "It's too—it's too bad, Audrey," he said. "Yes, I'll come."

She let go of him, and looked after him fondly as he went back through the hall to the room where the men were working. When he had gone inside, she listened at the door.

"I'll have a dish of ice cream," one of the electricians was saying. "Don't you be mean to me now," ordered the other. "I won't kiss you if you're mean!"

Audrey flushed indignantly at these jibes aimed at her husband. Surprisingly, though, he only laughed. She could hear the sound of his chuckle.

"Go to it," he said. "If it amuses you, it's all right with me."

There were more words, briefly, and then the sound of hammering was resumed.

Morton came home that evening after six o'clock.

"Going to take Marie out to dinner," he began, "so—"

As he saw Audrey put her finger to her lip, her eyes bright with happiness.

She beckoned to him, and lifted through the hall. Mystified, he followed. At the door of his study she continued for him to halt, looking inside he saw Parrish. The young man was deep in a pile of papers that lay before him on Morton's desk.

At one elbow was Audrey's chair.

"How come?"

"She's been looking sad all afternoon—though she laughed when she talked to you, there in the yard. I saw her."

Morton went out into the hall and shut the door of the room where Parrish sat. Returning, he said, "You think Nona likes me still, do you?"

"She loves you," Audrey said, promptly. "You know it as well as I do."

Soberly, he assented. "I have thought something of the kind. The girl came close to him. 'You ought to do something definite, daily. Nona listens for your every footstep, and Marie's sure you're going to marry her—marry Marie. Which one do you like best?'"

"My little girl room, John," she said, looking up at him fondly. "It's the dearest room in the world to me. Won't you take it, John? Just come up to it when you're through work. I'll send you dinner to you—you needn't eat with me, dearest boy."

"He inspected the apartment. 'That bed,' he said, 'is—'

She interrupted, her voice joyous with approaching victory. "It's too little," she finished for him. "But I'll have another bed moved in—you own bed, John—and a dresser. You won't mind the toy bathroom, will you?"

Little's Homer Gives Andreans 8-7 Victory

Circles Bases in First of Ninth to Win Game—Score Was 7-7 at End of Eighth—Sons of England Meet Andreans on Tuesday

Today the Andrean softball nine are sitting pretty as champions of the "B" section of the Victoria and District Soft Ball League. Last night at the Royal Athletic Park they took Bryan's Bluebirds into camp and handed them an 8-7 defeat in one of the hardest fought soft ball games played on local diamonds for many a moon. A young man by the name of Little crowned himself hero of this battle with a circuitous run in the first of the ninth and won the game for his teammates. At the end of the eighth the score stood 7-7 and interest was at fever height. McConnell, the first man to bat, died in an attempt to reach first. Little, the next man up, did the trick when he connected with the opposing pitcher's offerings to circle the diamond amidst loud applause. The next two men were out in quick order. The last of the ninth and the Bluebirds at bat was soon over and the Andreans were declared winners of the Lyons Cup.

The first inning saw the eventual winners score once while their opponents were retired via the three up and three out route. In the next inning the teams were out for no runs. The Andreans gained another run in the third and with the score 2-0 the Bluebirds came to bat in the last of the fourth and were successful in driving one run across. The first of the fifth saw the Andreans retired in quick order for no runs, but a story of a different color was told by the fighting Bluebirds. For the first time during the game the birdmen took the lead when they drove four runs across the home plate. The next inning ended in short time with no runs.

The lucky seventh was productive of four runs which were evenly divided. For the birdmen it was a fine score, but for their opponents it was just the start. In the first of the eighth the Andreans scored three runs to make the score 7-7 and retired the birdmen for no runs. With the arrival of the first of the ninth and the crowd on their toes the teams began to play lively. McConnell, the first batter for the Andreans, died in an effort to reach first.

Score by Innings:
Andreans 1 0 1 0 0 2 3 1—8
Bluebirds 0 0 0 1 4 0 2 0—7

TWO CHAMPIONS TO CONTEST THE FINAL

MISS ADA MACKENZIE AND MISS PAGET LAST SURVIVORS IN TOURNAMENT

Mrs. Vera Hutchings, Coast Representative, Falls to Latter Through Failure of Putter

WINNIPEG, Sept. 3.—Miss Ada Mackenzie, Miss Augusta Club, Toronto, and Miss Helen Paget, of the Royal Ottawa Club, earned the right to play off for the title of Canadian ladies' open champion, at present held by Miss Mackenzie, when they won their semi-final matches today at the Elmhurst course here. Miss Mackenzie played golf of real championship calibre to dispose easily of her youthful opponent. Miss Helen Paget, who had defeated Mrs. Vera Hutchings, of the Jovitch Club, Vancouver, by a margin of 7 and 6, while Miss Paget, who holds the Canadian closed title, outplayed Mrs. Vera Hutchings in the short game to win, 3 and 2.

The match between Miss Paget and Mrs. Hutchings, which was the chief interest of the day, was a real example of the values of the short game and the breaks. The Pacific Coast player had a marked superiority in the long game being ahead from the tee practically at all times, but her putter failed her miserably at all times. Miss Paget on the other hand was deadly on the greens. Paget took the first two holes and was never headed thereafter. Mrs. Hutchings squared the match at the seventh, but Miss Paget took advantage of her opponent's mistakes at the eighth and ninth to win both and turned for home two up. The lead was increased to three at the tenth, again due to Mrs. Hutchings' failure on the green, and although the Vancouver player played better golf on several of the remaining holes, the situation remained unchanged at the eleventh, after a succession of halved holes.

No Chance
Miss Ada Mackenzie gave Miss Smith absolutely no chance after the first hole, where she took three putts, but still won the hole. Playing wonderful golf, the champion negotiated the first eight holes in a heavy wind in 35, only letting Miss Smith in twice for halves. The latter's first win came at the ninth, where Miss Mackenzie allowed out of bounds, from the tee and was thus able to turn five up. The lead went again at the eleventh, 235 yards up hill, where Miss Mackenzie drove the green for a perfect three, and Miss Smith just failed to get down along for a half. The match was a lone play by both, but Miss Mackenzie won it for the match when she chipped dead from a deep trap at the right of the green.

SPORTIVE PUNCHES

By the "Old Un"

Wouldn't it be refreshing if those people who are responsible for the "publicity" of the Dempsey-Tunney fight, and the "publicity" of the "smoking up" for a big prize fight would hit on something new to say?

(When we say a big prizefight of course we mean a prizefight for big money.)

The "hallyho" for the DEMPSEY-TUNNEY affair (which comes off some time this month, doesn't it?) is just about the same as the "hallyho" for any of the last half dozen performances of the principal.

We are being told how Dempsey is getting irritable and forgetting to "pull" his punches, and how a little playful tap or so which travels but a few inches knocks a sparring partner or so cold and kicking.

Old associates who have broken with the champion (layer-off), and therefore, of course, have no reason whatever to say anything but the truth, are going out of their way to tell the world that they can see how Dempsey can help winning by a kayo in jigtime, and the challenger, running true to form, issues a statement to somebody else (it for him) that he thinks he is about certain to knock Jack out in not more than half a round. Dempsey's a fine fighter, of course, make no mistake about that, but he himself is just that much better.

Cricket scores sometimes get into similar difficulties, and when they make a mistake do not always like to be told about it.

There was a well-known cricketer in the Old Country named HILLIER, and the score in a certain match put HILLIER opposite the biggest score of the day. The reporter in his innocence repeated the mistake. Hillier pointed out the error to the scorer.

Quoth the latter: Well, if a hatch and a hi and a bel and a bel and a hi and a he and a ha don't spell "Hillier" I don't know what will!

Does that make some of you feel homesick? If so read this and sympathize with the author, Mr. Alfred Stoddard:

NOBILITATE
Did you but know it, O lady fair
We met with the Blankshire Hounds today
What does it matter that you were there
And I was three thousand miles away?

I saw the rime on the hedgerows gleam
In the morning sun as we rode to meet;
And the dew that captured each wintry beam
To sparkle under our horses' feet.

You sat the chestnut so light and free;
I heard the clink of his bit and bridle
As we waited at cover—the lucky pair
With such gentle hands on his bridle reins.

And I dream of the day we had together
You on the chestnut and I on the bay.
Of the English fields and the English weather
Though I am three thousand miles away.

(No, gentle reader, nostalgia means homesickness, NOT love-sickness.)

Pirates Win Pitchers' Battle From Chicago Cubs by 3-2 Score to Keep Company With Cincinnati in Keen National Pennant Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Carl Mays pitched the Cincinnati Reds to a 4-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals at Cincinnati today and the Cardinals' lead at the top of the National League was cut to one game. Each team made seven hits, but the Reds' submarine twirler was airtight in the pinches. St. Louis used Haines and Bell on the mound. A wild throw to Bell in the first allowed the Reds to gather in two runs, but St. Louis tied it up in the second. One run in the fifth and sixth gave Cincinnati its margin. O'Farrell had two triples.

Meanwhile the Pirates, in third place, kept on the heels of Cincinnati by taking a ten-inning twirlers' battle from the Cubs at Chicago, 3-2.

TRAVELERS BALL NINE PLAY TILGUMS TODAY

Local Pennant Holders Will Meet Commercial Baseball Team at Athletic Park at 3 P.M.

The Tilgum Commercial baseball nine, strong contenders for the title, have thrown out a challenge to the United Commercial Travelers. Of course the samplers, who copped the senior amateur title, are always willing to be obliged and they accepted the challenge. These teams will perform at the Royal Athletic Park today at 3 p.m.

Curtis will work on the mound for the clubmen, with Hilton at the receiving. This battery will be opposed by Noble and Bowden, of the United Commercial Travelers.

Monday's programme will be as follows:

Eagles vs. Washington, at 11 a.m.; Eagles vs. Washington, at 3 p.m.; Tilgums vs. Sidney (Commercial League play-off series), at 5 p.m. With three games on Monday's programme ball fans will have plenty of excitement on Labor Day. The Eagles are bringing a team from Washington for a double-header at the local ball park, while the Commercial League are staging their second game of the play-off series later in the afternoon. In the first game the millmen took the measure of the clubmen by a somewhat one-sided score, and victory for them on Monday will give them the title and the McGavin Cup. In the Tilgum camp everything is rosy and the boys are confident of coming through with a win. Victory for the clubmen will tie up the series and a third game will in that case have to be played.

Rifle Shooting

The executive council of the Victoria Rifle Club met on Thursday evening for the purpose of arranging a Labor Day shoot.

Local sportsmen have been exceptionally generous in donating prizes with the result that despite the lack of time available, a very fine display of prizes will be on view at the range on Monday morning.

Shooting will commence at 200 yards at 9:30 o'clock. Seven shots will be fired at the three ranges, 200, 500 and 600 yards, with one sighting shot at each. There will be no entry fee charged other than the 25 cents, marker's fee.

Bandfield's truck will leave the corner of Douglas and Yates Streets at 8:30 a.m., taking the markets and any other riflemen who have no other means of transportation.

All riflemen intending to take part are asked to be on the range not later than 9 a.m., as no entries will be accepted after the second squad commences firing.

A full list of the prizes and names of the donors will be published immediately after the shoot.

The executive council decided that the annual meeting of the Association will be held in the Armories on Tuesday, September 21, at 4 p.m., when the new executive will be elected and arrangements made for the opening of the indoor season.

Inter-city Shoot
Arrangements are being made for the inter-city shoot between Vancouver and Victoria for possession of the Buchart Shield, to take place this month. This trophy has been shot for twice, once in 1924 at Victoria, and 1925 at Vancouver, the local team being successful on both occasions.

Victoria Gun Club Will Have Final Shoot Sunday
The Victoria Gun Club will hold its final shoot of the season at the Colwood traps on Sunday at 10 a.m. An open invitation is extended to anyone interested in trap shooting. Ammunition will be supplied on the grounds.

pate," the Geo. M. Cohan production at the Coliseum, has enjoyed a very successful week's run, and the final performance tonight should play to a capacity house.
This well constructed melodramatic farce is exceptionally well handled by Mr. Redmond and his talented company, each member putting his or her bit over with a bang. There are of the tense situations for which this play is noted. The Boys' Naval Brigade Band, which fills in between acts, is proving very popular with the patrons.COLUMBIA In making the big race scene in "Under Western Skies," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, Director
Sedgwick planned to give movie fans something new in horse racing scenes.
To this end he wrote into the story a breath-taking steeplechase. It has about it the thrill of danger, as the splendid animals, dashing along at full speed, leap into the air and gracefully take the hurdles. There are spills and shocks in plenty in this great race scene—one of the most remarkable falls yet caught by the camera lens. The one taken by Norman Kerry, who plays the featured role.DOMINION "What the well dressed
THEATRE
eighty years ago, would be a strange sight on the streets today. A tiny silver perfume bottle chained to a finger ring—corsetlace ruff—a walking stick with a serpent in gold coiled around it—these are a few sartorial splendors of the day. These are worn by Roy L'Amour, playing a Paris boulevardier in Lillian Gish's starring feature,
"La Boheme," a colorful adaptation of the romance that inspired the opera, and which is now playing at the Dominion Theatre. Every article in his strange get-up was brought from Paris and is authentic.PLAYHOUSE Lewis Stone has decided that being a motion picture actor is more than mere play. During the screening of "Too Much Money," now at the Playhouse Theatre, he spent eight hours juggling great, heavy cans of ashes in front of an apartment house on 17th Street in New York's Alley. The cans were the big kind that hold pounds and pounds of ashes, and Stone had to toss them around in front of the camera. When the day ended Stone had blisters on his hands, split fingernails and a ruffled disposition.CAPITOL Chester Conklin and his
mousethrower have magnificently simultaneously into the feature production class.
The curdled pie era in Conklin's career has bowed to pantomimic subtlety.
The comedian has one of the most bizarre roles of his career in "The Duchess of Buffalo," the new Constance Talmadge starring vehicle.
This play picture of Russian life, now being offered at the Capitol Theatre, has a brilliant supporting cast, including Tullio Carminati, Edward
Murphy, Rose Dione, Lawrence
Grant, Martha Franklin and Jean De
Brial.Coliseum Launches
Out in Musical
Comedy Next WeekNext week the Coliseum management is presenting the famous Geo.
M. Cohan musical comedy, "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway." This is the production which laid the foundation of Mr. Cohan's success, winning for him his first public recognition as a producer par excellence of high-class musical comedy. The original script of the play will be followed faithfully, but in order to reproduce into a really up-to-date offering the musical numbers, with the exception of two or three of the most popular old-time songs, will be substituted for more recent catchy music. The heavily augmented cast includes a full beauty chorus and Victoria's popular soprano, Miss
Marie McLaughlin.Vancouver Island News*North Salt Spring

Removal of Racial Friction In Pacific, Aim of Institute

General Secretary Explains Efforts Made to Allay Fear and Suspicion—Organization Proceeding for Second Conference in July

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 3.—The removal of racial friction in the Pacific and the substitution of facts for fear and suspicion were stated by Mr. J. Merle Davis, general secretary of the Institute of Pacific Relations, as the purposes of the institute. Mr. Davis is visiting Sydney as part of a tour of countries bordering the Pacific in order to evoke greater interest in the institute and to organize for its second conference in July of next year.

Mr. Davis said that the institute, which held its first conference last year, grew from a project by a group of business men in Honolulu, who for years had been watching with concern the increasing tension in the Pacific. They conceived the idea of calling together groups of intelligent men from the Pacific countries to discuss matters of mutual concern and to establish a frank and informal conference, with the idea of arranging a better understanding of different points of view, and the reasons for them.

The institute was not an official body. It had no relation to, and derived no authority from, any Government. It did not aim to make recommendations to any Government or to Governments or other organizations. It sought to impose no programme, advocated no special policy, and championed no special interests. It was solely concerned with the gathering of accurate, provable facts on great Pacific issues, and with the bringing of those facts to the attention of the people of the countries concerned.

Mr. Davis proceeded to describe the work of the institute. It was headed by Mr. H. Duncan Hall, of Sydney, and Professor Roberts, of Melbourne. The institute had agreed that the two years before the next conference should be spent in research with the best scientific aid to secure data concerning such matters as food supplies, laws affecting migration and their interpretation by responsible officials, and treatment of aliens.

This research, said Mr. Davis, was the first step in the institute's proposed to carry out. The other was the exchange of information through the press of the different countries. In the United States and Japan, the institute was trying to depend upon the intelligence of the people to develop an international policy and legislation. "The bulk of our people in the United States," remarked Mr. Davis, "are not only ignorant in regard to international affairs, but also indifferent."

The institute, continued Mr. Davis, wanted to bring about better knowledge of each Pacific country by the others, but did not expect its work directly to solve the problems. It hoped to substitute facts for fear and propaganda. They had learned to distrust much that appeared in the United States newspapers on international matters, and also in the Japanese press, which shared with American papers the reputation of being the most "yellow" in the world.

Last year's conference, said Mr. Davis, purposely refrained from making decisions, as it realized that it was dealing with issues on which no final word was obtainable. It confined itself to trying to understand the points of view of different national groups. The institute did not deal with immediate concerns and interests, but was taking a fair and dispassionate view on international matters, and hoped to avoid, if possible, any coming conflict between the East and West.

"It may not be possible to avoid such a conflict," added Mr. Davis. "We do not think it is, but we appeal to intelligent people in these countries to make an effort to avert such a catastrophe. We are not united to any organization, and we are going to keep our skirts free from any propaganda. We absolutely decline to back up any policy. Our responsibility is to show that the information we are circulating is correct, up-to-date, and concise, and when it goes out our responsibility ends."

The institute is preparing for its conference at Honolulu next July, and Mr. Davis was delegated by the council of the institute to visit the countries bordering the Pacific, and to plan with the leaders in them for the next meeting. He was also requested to find out what the different people were thinking of the Pacific problems in pursuance of this task, Mr. Davis has visited Japan, China, the Philip-

WHAT IS DISTANCE TO SOLAR REGIONS?

Astronomers Will Attempt to Measure More Accurately How Far Sun Is From Earth

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 3.—Another attempt will be made by the world's foremost astronomers in 1931 to measure more accurately the earth's distance from the sun, according to plans to be submitted to the International Astronomic Congress which was held recently.

Although the present estimate of the earth's mean distance from the sun is placed at 92,487,400 miles, which is considered sufficiently accurate for all practical uses, it is believed that the position of the planet Eros in 1931, in its relative relation to the sun and the earth will afford an opportunity to make the estimate more exact than it is at present.

The present estimate was made from similar observations in 1900 through an international co-operative effort. Astronomers in all parts of the world at that time made individual estimates and these were combined by the eminent English astronomer Hinks, and the figure reached by him has been used to the present. It is believed that this estimate is correct to one part in 2,000, but it is probable that the 1931 observations will bring the correction to one part in 5,000.

The congress has been arranged by the Astronomische Gesellschaft, an organization of private astronomers with members in all countries. During the week the delegates to the congress will make a trip to the island of Hveen on the 35th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the Tycho Brahe Observatory at Uraniborg.

The congress will discuss various phenomena of the heavens which have been observed in recent years. It is expected that the subject of variable stars, and principally the star Omicron, in the constellation Cepheus, which has puzzled astronomers for the last 300 years, will be the principal feature of discussion.

LABOR DEPARTMENT ISSUES FIFTH REPORT

Organization in Industry, Commerce and the Professions in Canada Tabulated

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—The fifth report on organization in industry, commerce and the professions in Canada for the year 1926, has just been published by the Department of Labor. The volume shows the extent to which employers have associated for the purpose of dealing with matters of common interest. The report also contains the names of associations whose members are concerned with co-operative buying and selling as well as of those embracing wholesale and retail dealers. A glance at the following groups into which the associations are divided will indicate the scope of the report, in which will be found the names of organizations covering almost every phase of industrial, agricultural and professional activity as follows: Manufacturing, building and construction, mining, transportation and communication, printing and publishing, laundering, cleaning, repairing, etc., personal service and amusement, general manufacturers and employers, financial, agriculture, dairying, horse, live stock, sheep, breeders, etc., co-operative societies, wholesale merchants, retail merchants, real estate dealers, professionals, technical and scientific, insurance and funeral service.

According to the report, the membership included in the first eight of the above divisions, which consists of 252 associations with a combined membership of 24,197, is composed of employers or firms who are for the most part operating industries in which the employment of help is essential. With some of the corresponding organizations of workers these employers have agreements covering the conditions of employment in their respective establishments. In the remaining groups the employment of labor is in some cases only incidental, and with the exception of the personal service and amusement and the retail merchants groups there is no corresponding body of organized employees.

Although the majority of the associations whose names are recorded in the report are wholly Canadian, a number are identified with organizations whose headquarters are in the United States. The report states that there are in the Dominion 1,318 main and 623 branch associations, making in all 1,941, an increase of 616 in the number recorded in 1925. The bulk of this increase is accounted for in the co-operative societies group, which numbers 802 associations, 554 more than appeared in the previous report. The total membership of all classes of associations is 1,235,812, an increase of 205,681. The report for 1925 contained the names of 1,225 associations with a combined membership of 1,003,131.

RAILWAY STOCKS LEAD IN GENERAL ADVANCE

Mercantile Reviews Are Optimistic and Large Volume of Funds Available

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Breaking away from the tradition of quiet and indecisive trading in a pre-holiday season, stock prices today bounded upward under the leadership of the high-grade railroad shares, about a score of which touched their highest prices in a year or longer.

Bullish enthusiasm was created by the optimistic tenor of the week's mercantile reviews, the large volume of funds available in the call money market at the renewal rate of 4 1/2 per cent, and the report that the steel industry started September with operations about 83 per cent of capacity, an increase of about 5 per cent in the last fortnight. Shifting gasoline prices in the Middle West and the expanding public participation also were regarded as favorable factors.

Cheasapeake and Ohio crossed 160 to the highest price ever recorded on prediction by President Harman that earnings this year would reach $22 a share.

U.S. Steel was sluggish in the early trading, selling down to 14 1/2, but later rallied to 15 1/2 on prediction of a large increase in August unfilled orders which will be made public a week from today.

A more uniformly upward movement was apparent in the public utilities. Oil shares held fairly steady.

Call money held steady at 4 1/2 per cent. Prime commercial paper was on a flat 4 1/2 per cent basis.

Prices in today's bond market were well suited, but trading was of the usual dull pre-holiday character.

WHEAT FRACTIONALLY HIGHER AT CLOSING

Winnipeg Quotations Recede During Morning But Show Gains

WINNIPEG, Sept. 3.—After receding to low points during the morning, wheat prices regained lost ground in the final hour of trading this afternoon and closed 1/2 cent to 1 1/2 cents higher.

At the low point of the day the October future touched the 11.30 mark, but closed strong, 1 1/2 cents higher at 11.31. November closed at 11.31. December at 11.28. May at 11.33.

Extensive short coverings to even up accounts for the week-end and Labor Day developed later in the season, and this was the main factor in the advance. The trade volume was not heavy, but pool and line elevator companies placed offerings on the market during the morning. On yesterday's basis, the trade volume was reported to have taken more than a million bushels of Manitoba for deferred shipment.

Trade volume was again light in the morning, but the market continued to follow the trend of wheat. Cash markets were featureless.
